Media Contact:
Rich Leonowitz at RLeonowitz@RedeemerHealth.org

Redeemer Health pursues Chapter 11 process to preserve care and advance a sustainable path forward

Offers of support from major regional health systems provide encouragement as Redeemer Health works to continue its mission

Meadowbrook, Pa., November 2, 2026 — Redeemer Health announced today that it has filed voluntary petitions for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection as part of an effort to address financial challenges and preserve health system operations and the mission.

Redeemer Health is encouraged by offers of support from surrounding major health systems and is working to develop a path for the continuation of health system. No agreement has been reached or is being announced today.

“Our responsibility is to pursue every viable opportunity to preserve care for the people who depend on Redeemer Health,” said Bill Sasso, Chairman of the Redeemer Health Board of Trustees. “We are deeply encouraged by the support being offered by major health systems in our region. We are taking this step to create a path forward for our health system mission and are working with urgency to turn that support into a concrete plan.”

Redeemer Health, like many health systems, is navigating sustained financial pressure, rising labor and supply costs, reimbursement challenges, changing utilization and increased competition. The Chapter 11 process provides a court-supervised framework for addressing those challenges and pursuing available options for the organization’s future.

“Redeemer Health remains fully operational and continues to provide high-quality care to our patients throughout this process,” said Jim Logue, Interim Chief Executive Officer. “Our patients and residents can continue to rely on us for their care and should keep all scheduled appointments. Our focus remains on ensuring continuity of services and meeting the needs of the patients, residents and communities we serve.”

“We know this announcement creates concern for our employees, providers, patients, residents, and their families,” Sasso said. “Their questions deserve direct answers. We are grateful for the colleagues whose continued service is essential to safe care and to our stabilization efforts, and we will keep them informed as this work progresses."

The scope and timing of any future arrangement will depend on its terms and applicable court and regulatory approvals. Redeemer Health will communicate confirmed developments as they become available.

Patients and residents may find current service information at https://www.redeemerhealth.org/. Information about the Chapter 11 cases is available at https://dm.epiq11.com/Redeemer. Creditors may also send an email to RedeemerHealthInfo@epiqglobal.com or call 877-265-0779 (toll free) or 971-260-4441 (international).

About Redeemer Health

A Catholic health care provider, Redeemer Health offers a wide range of health care and health-related services, including a 239-bed acute care hospital with a physician and provider network. The system also provides outpatient services and ambulatory sites, a transitional care unit, home health and hospice services in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, three skilled nursing facilities, personal care, a retirement community, low-income housing, an independent living community, a trauma-informed community resource for families experiencing homelessness, multiple food pantries in both Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and homes for intellectually and developmentally disabled adults. Redeemer Health also owns and operates an accountable care organization. Health system offices are based in Huntingdon Valley, Pa. Visit www.redeemerhealth.org for more information.